PREFACE.

Singing forms such an interesting and important branch of Divine service, that every effort to improve the science of sacred music should meet with corresponding encouragement. Nothing tends more, when rightly performed, to elevate the mind, and tune it to the strains of pure devotion. Hence the high estimation in which it has been constantly held by the Cbristian Church. Indced, every considerable revival of true godlincss has been attended, not only with the cultivation and enlargement of knowledge in general, but of sacred poetry and music in particular. Singing and making melody in the heart to the Lord, is the natural result of having the love of God shed abroad in the heart by the Holy Spirit. The melodious notes of many voiccs, harmoniously uniting to sound the praises of God, cannot but inspire the heart of the Christian to devotion, and elevate the affections to things spiritual and Divine. Who then can be uninterested in the improvement of a science so bencficial to the Church of God! What heart that has ever vibrated to the inspiring sounds of sacred and vocal music, but must exult in every attempt that is made to cultivate and diffuse the knowledge of this useful auxiliary in spreading the knowledge of God our Saviour.

Though the Methodist Episcopal Church has never been insensible to the advantages resulting from the knowledge and practice of vocal music, having always used it-perlaps more than most other denominations of Christians-in public assemblies and private associations; yet a suitable Tme Book, adapted to the various Ifymns and metres of its Hymn Book, has long been a desideratum in its spiritual economy. Several efforts, indeed, have been made, by individuals, to supply this deficiency. The subject was brought before the General Conference at its last session ; and it was finally referred to the discretion of the Book Agents.

Believing such a collection of tunes, as should be suited to the various metrcs and subjects of our $\mathrm{F} y \mathrm{mms}$, would be highly advantageous to the members and friends of our Church, soon after the Conference closed its session, the Agents adopted measures to accomplish this very desirable object. For this purpose a Committe, consisting of members of our Church, was appointed, who, beside their competency to this undertaking, felt a deep interest in the reputation and utility of this very important part of Divine service. They were requested, in conformity as nearly as practicable to the requisition of our discipline, to make a selection of tunes from authors of approved merit, keeping in view the various sections of our widely extended Connection, that the peculiarity of taste, in the choice of tunes, might, as far as possible, be gratified. They entered upon their labour with cheerfulness, and persevered with conscientious care and diligence until they brought their work to a close : and the tunes comprised in the following selection will evince the result of their exertions, and their communication to the Agents, with which we close this preface, will explain the manner in which they executed the trust confided to them.

N. Bangs,T. Mason.

" Dear Bremifren,-
"Your Committee whose task it has been, by your request, to compile a Book of Tunes for the use of the Methodist Episcopal Church, report: That they have been fully aware of the extreme difficulty of making such a collection of tunes as should in all respects be accommodated either to the fancy or taste of every section of our widely extended Connection. In the use of any particular style of tunes, so much gencrally depeuds upon education, local feclings, or mental constiturion, that, except with those who are skilled in the science of music, the choice of a tune is seldom caused by a discovery of its intrinsic worth, or its adaptation to the solemnitics of Christian worship. Your Committee, therefore, will neither be surprised nor disappointed, if their selection, in coming before the public, meet with some of thosediscouragements which have attended works of a similar nature.
"Your Committee, however, have not been regardless of the partialities of our societies, in different parts of the Ulion. They have availed themscires of standard works which have obtained celebrity in the eastern and southern states, as well as those that are in general use among us. The best European authors have also been consulted. Books edited by members of our Church, or with a design to suit our Hymn Book, have received particular attention. They have neglected no means of ascertaining the wishes of our friends, and of accommodating, as far as possible, their plan to those wishes.
"It may be proper to suggest, that the primary object of your Committee has been, not to prepare a collection of tunes for social circles, or singing associations, (though they hope the werk will not be unacceptable even in this light,) but, according to your own directions, for the use of worshipping congregations. They have therefore, in the first place, carefully avoided the choice of all such tunes, as from the intricacy or unsuitableness of their style, are incapable of being easily learned by ordinary congregations; for one of the most important objects of public singing is lost, when every tuneful voice in the house of God cannot join in the solemn exercise.
"Secondly, In cordial approbation of that clause of our discipline which disapproves of fugue tunes, they have (with the exception of a very few, the use of which has been established by general practice) passed by those distinguished by that peculiarity.
"Thirdly, In order to assist leaders of suging, they have carefully affixed over each hymn in the new Hymn Book, the name of such tune as in their opinion is suitable to that hymn.

* Your Committec have thought proper to insert brief instructions in the rudiments of music, which will be found of great utility where the work is introduced into singing schools,
"Thus, after the labour of nearly a twelvemonth, your Conmittee have the pleasure of delivering into your hands the result of their joint exertions: they are happy in having this opportunity of contributing their part toward the improvement of one of the most delightful, as well as one of the most devotional parts of Divine worship. Uninfluenced by the expectation or desire of any pecuniary recompense, they only wish as a reward for their labours the approbation of their brethren, beloved in Christ, who compose the General and Annual Conferences, and that of the membership of the Methodist Church. We have Iong needed a work which might be considered as a standard of music for our Connection in Amcrica. That which your Committee present to you, is an attempt for this, according to the best of their judgment.
"Finally, praying that the blessing of Heaven may accompany their efforts, they would subjoin the language of our Bishops, as a just expression of their own sentiments:- We exhort all to sing with the Spirit, and with the understanding also: and thus may the high praises of God be set up from east to west, from north to south; and we shall be happily instrumental in leading the devotion of thousands, and shall rejoice to join them in time and eternity.'-All which is respectfully submitted.

\section*{ADVERTISEMENT TO THE REVISED AND ENLARGED EDITION.}

The General Conference of 1832 , ordered that a revised and improved edition of this work should be prepared and published, with all convenient despatch; and with a view, as far as practicable, to suit the differcnt habits and tastes of the lovers of sacred nusic, it was at the same time recommended, that an edition should be issued with the patent or angular notes. This has accordingly been done.

The following communication, from the Committec to whom was confided the task of revising and enlarging the work, will show the principles which guided their conduct ; and the work itself will evince the result of their labours.

\section*{N. Bangs.}
"In compiling the revised edition of the Methodist Harmonist, the Committee appointed for that purpose have bestowed unwearied pains to make it as comprehensive and perfect as possible. It was thought proper to retain the entire former selection of tunes, as the work is now generally known, circulated, and approved among us. To this has been added a large collection of new music, made with great care, and contains every variety of metre that is required for the sacred poetry of our Church. For this purpose, the most approved works of psalmody, in this country and from abroad, have been examined. A few original tunes, composed expressly for this edition, are also added. The number of anthems, set picces, and sentences is increased, embracing what is generally necessary for social or public purposes.
"The Air, or principal part, is placed next above the Bass, and is designed for female voices, and in passages Pia. should be sung by them exclusirely. The Tenor is placed next above the Air; and the Alto, or Counter 'Tenor, on the upper stave.
" Nothing, in the opinion of your Committee, has produced such discordance, and such difficulties in the sacred music of the American Clurches, as the alterations so often introduced, from the original airs and harmonies of tunes: hence the melodies are given according to the orginal or most approved copics. In arranging the harmonies the same rule has been followed.
"The whole selection will be found very extensive; and the object constantly kept in view has been to make it chaste, simple, and correct. We have endeavoured to render the work a standard and usefal one, and calculated to supply the wants and religious services of our large and widely extending Connection.

\section*{A BRIEF}

\section*{INTRODUCTION TO THE SCIENCEOF}

\section*{MUSIC.}

Music is written on five parallel lines, and four intermediate spaces, which are called a Staff, and when notes ascend or descend above or below the Staff, short lines are added, which are called Ledger Lines: thus,-

The notes of music are named from the first seven letters of the alphabet, A, B, C, D, E, F, G: when the melody, or tune, exceeds these seven, the same serizs must be repeated.
The situation of the letters on the Staff is governed by a character, called a Cliff, placed at the beginning of the Staff. There are but two Cliffs used in this work, viz. the F and G Cliffs. The F Cliff is confined to the Bass and is placed on the fourth line: the G Cliff is used for all the parts except the Bass, and is placed on the second line. Another Cliff, called the C Cliff, was formerly used for Counter and Tenor, but is not used by modern composers.

\section*{NOTES AND RESTS.}

As letters cannot describe the duration of sound, Notes have been invented for that porpose. The length or duration of a note with respect to time is known by its particular form.

\section*{Rests.}

\section*{EXPLANATION OF THE CHARACTERS.}
1. A Flat, set before a note, sinks it half a tone.
2. A Sharp raises a note half a tone.
N. B. Flats or sharps at the beginning have influence throughout a tune Accidental flats, sharps, and naturals, affect the sound of no notes, beyond the bar in which they oecur.
3. A Vatural restores a note made flat or sharp to its first sourd.
4. A Point at the right side of a note makes it half as long again.
5. A Slur connects as many notes as are sung to one syllable.
6. A Figure 3, placed over any three notes, reduces them to the length of two of the same kind
7. A Hold requires the note over which it is placed to be sounded longer than its usual time.
8. A Repeat indicates what part of a tune is to be sung twice.
9. Choosing Notes leave the performer at liberty to sing which he pleases.
10. Appogiaturas are small notes introduced for embellishment. They are not rechoned in making up the time of the measure, but are deducted from the nutes before which they are placed.
11. A Staccato mark directs the note under it to be sung emphatically.
12. Notes of Syncopation take their name from the circumstance of their beginning on the weak, and ending on the strong parts of the measure.
13. A Bar divides the time according to the measure note.
14. A Double Bar shows the end of a strain or line.
15. A Close shows the end of a tune.
16. A Direct shows the place of the succeeding note.
17. Figures 1 and 2 show that the note uader 1 is to be sung the first time, and that under 2 at the second time, or repeat.
18. A Swell requires an increase and decrease of sound in the notes over which it is placed.
19. The Brace connects such parts as are to bo sung together; as Air, Tenor, Bass, &c.

\section*{OF TIME AND ITS CHARACTERS.}

Time is the manner of regulating and measuring sound with regard to its duration. There are three kinds of time,-Common, Triple, and Compound. In each kind there are varieties, which are denoted by appropriate signs. Common and Compound time have an even number of beats to the bar, as 2 or 4. Triple time has an odd number, as 3.

\section*{Comion Tine.}

Is the slowest movement. Has a semibreve for a measure note, or notes or rests equal to one semibreve; four beats in a bar in the time of four seconds, two down and two up.

Has the same measure note, and beat in the same manner, but one third quicker.

Has the same measure note, two beats in a bar, one up, and one down, in the time of two seconds. The accent in this and the two preceding moods falls on the first and third of the bar.

4th Mood

lst Mood

2d Mood.

3d Mood

Has three quavers in a bar, beat in the same manner, but a third quicker than the last. The accent in Triple Time falls on the first beat of the bar.

\section*{Compound Tine.}

Contains six crotchets in a bar, two beate, one down and one up, in the time of two seconds. The accent is on the first and fourth notes.

2d Mood

Contains six quavers in a bar, beat and accented like the last, but a third quicker
N. B. -The hand falls at the beginning of the bar in all moods of Time.

\section*{OF KEYS OR SCALES.}

A diatonic scale, of which the notes bear certain relations to one principal note, from which they are all, in some respects, derived, and upon which they all depend, is termed a Key; and the principal note is called the Key Note, or Tonic.
Every scale in which the semitones are found between the third and fourth and the seventh and eighth degrees, ascending from the key note, is termed the Major Mode of that key; because the interval between the key note and its third consists of two tones. The only series of this mode among the natural notes is that which commences with \(\mathbf{C}\); and hence this key may be taken as an example of all the major seales. [Callcott.]

\section*{Major Key of C.}

Every scale in which the semitones are fourd between the second and third and the fifih and sixth degrees, ascending from the key note, is termed the .Minor Mode of that key ; because the interval between the key note and its third consists only of one tone and one semitone. The only series of this mode among the natural notes is that which commences with A ; and hence this key may be taken as an example of all the minor scales. [Callcolt.]

The minor mode has this peculiarity, that whenever the seventh of the scale ascends to the eighth, it requires to be made sharp, as the proper leading note, or sharp seventh to the tonic; and to accommodate the seventh the sixth is also made sharp. But in the descending series the sharps are omitted, and the natural scalc remains unaltered.

Minor Key of A.

In practising musical lessons, the seven sounds of the scale are expressed by the syllables \(\overrightarrow{F a}\), Sol, Lave, Mi; the first three being repeated. .Mi is always applied to the sevemth of the major scale, (the second of the minor,) and determines the situation of the rest.

\section*{Table for finding the My.}

If there is no Flat or Sharp at the beginning of a tune, the Mi is in \(\mathbf{B}\); but \(\left.\begin{array}{l}\text { If } B \text { be Flat } \\ \text { If } B \text { and } E \\ \text { If } B, E, \text { and } A \\ \text { If } B, E, A \text {, and } D\end{array}\right\} M i\) is in \(\left\{\begin{array}{l|l}E & \text { If } F \text { be sharp } \\ A & \text { If } F \text { and } C \\ D & \text { If } F, C, \text { and } G \\ G & \text { If } F, C, C, \text { and } D\end{array}\right\} M\) is in \(\left\{\begin{array}{l}F \\ C \\ G \\ D\end{array}\right.\)
In pitcling a tune, care should be taken to set it in such a key as will enable the congregation to sing the lighest or lowest notes with ease.

If the hymn be ohcerful let it be set to a lively tune; but if the subject of it be confession or sorrow, a plaintive tune shuuld be chosen.

\section*{Transpositron.}

Transposition is the removal of a tune ligher or lower on the scale by assuming another letter for the key note, and adapting the semitones to the assumed key by means of flats and sharps, as the following table will show.

"Glad tidings of great joy I bring To you and all mankind.
" To you in David's town this day, Is born of David's line,
The Saviour, who is Christ the Lord, And this slafl be the sign :
"The heavenly babe you there shall find To human view display'd,
All meanly wrapt in swathing bands, And in a manger laid."

O how can words with equal warmth The gratitude declare, That glows within my ravish'd heart ! But thou canst read it there !

Thy providence my life snstain'd, And all my wants redrest,
While in the silent womb I lay, And hung upon the breast.

To all my weak complaints and cries, Thy mercy lent an ear;

Shall join the disembodied saints, And find its long-sought rest:

In hope of that immortal crown I now the cross sustain;
And gladly wander up and down, And smile at toil and pain :

" Jesus, the God whom angels fear, Comes down to dwell with you!
To-day he makes his entrance here. But not as monarchs do

Could I of thy strength take hold Ard always feel thee near, Confident, divinely bold, My soul would scorn to fear

We have laid up our love, and our treasure above, Though our bodies continue below:
The redeem'd of our Lord, we remember his werd, And with singing to paradise go.

With singing we praise the original grace, By our heav'nly Father bestow'd:
Our being receive from his bounty, and live
To the honour and glory of God

True pleasures abound in the rapturous sound; And whoever hath found it, hath paradise found : My Jesus to know, and feel his blood flow, 'Tis life everlasting, 'tis heav'n below !

Yet unward I haste to the heav'nly feast:
That, that is the fulness; but this is the taste; And this I shall prove, till with joy I remove To the hear'n of heav'ns in Jesus's love.

Thy presence fills the universal space;
Thy grace appears to all the fallen race; O visit us with light and life divine, Fill ev'ry soul, for ev'ry soul is thine.

And wait with arms of faith t' embrace,
And all thy love to feel.
My soul breaks out in strong desire, The perfeet bliss to prove; My longing heart is all on fixe To be dissolved in love.

Give me thyself, from every boast, From every wish set free; Let all I am in thee be lost, But give thyself to me.

With pitying eyes the Prince of grace Beheld our helpless grief;
He saw, and (O amazing love!) He ran to our relicf.

Down from the shining seats above With joyful haste he fled;
Enterd the grave in mortal flesh, And dwelt among the dead.
O for this love let roeks and hills Their lasting silence break!
And all harmonious human tongues The Saviour's praises speak.

Gather the outcasts in, and save From sin and Satan's pow'r; And let them now acceptance have, And know their gracious hour.

Lover of souls! thou know'st to prize What thou hast bought so dear: Come, then, and in thy people's eyes, With all thy wounds appear !

Welcome as the water spring To a drv, barren place; 0 descend on me and bring Thy sweet refreshing grace! O'er a parch'd and weary laod, As a great rock extends its shade, Hide me, Saviour, with thy hand, And screen my naked head.

In the time of my distress 'Thon hast my succeour been, In my utter helpleosiness.

Restaining me from sin ; O how swiftly didst thou move To save me in the trving hour; Still protect me with thy love, And shield me with thy pow'r.

All fulness of peace, ail fulness of joy, And spiritual bliss that never shall cloy; To us it is given in Jesus to know, \(\Lambda\) kingdom of heav'n, a heav'n below.

No longer we join, while sinners invite; Nor envy the swine their brutish delight ; Their joy is all sadness, their mirth is all vain, Their laughter is madness, theirpleasure is pain.

C might they at last with sorrow return, The pleasures to taste for which they were born Our Jesus receiving, our happiness prove, The joy of believing, the heav'n of love.

The Lamb on the throne, Lo! he dwells with his own, And to rivers of pleasure he leads;

With his merry's full blaze,
With the sight of his face, Our beatified spirits he feeds.

Our foreheads proelaim His ineffable oame ;
Our bodies his glory display ;
A day without night,
We feast in his sight ;
And eternity seems as a day.

Thy presence fills the universal space; Thy grace appears to all the fallen race; O visit us with light and life Divine, Fill ev'ry soul, for ev'ry soul is thine.

The blessed Jesus is my Lord, my love; He is my King, from bum I would not move; Away then, all ye objects that divert, Nor seek to draw from my dear Lord nuy heart.

That uncreated heauty which hath gain'd My ravish'd heart, hath all your glory stain'd: His loveliness my soul hath rrepossess'd, And left no room for any other guest.

thee be stay'd; Lord, hear our call! Lord, hear our call! Lord, hear our call! Our souls on thee be stay'd; Lord, hear our call!

God ruleth on high, Almighty to save; And still he is nigh, His presence we have: The great congregation His triumph shall sing, Ascribing salvation To Jesus our King.

Salvation to God
Who sits on the throne;
Let all cry aloud,
Ard honour the Son:
Our Jesus's praises
The angels proclaim,
Fall down on their faces
And worship the Lamb.

Then let us adore, And give him his right ; All glory and pow'r, And wisdom and might, All honour and blessing, With angels above, And thanks never ceasing, And infinite love.
